As of April 21, 2008 DOB will only be accepting the new version of PW1-C for boiler testing. The new PW1-C eliminates the BO-8 (Verified Statement of Readiness) and 900A (Notice of Proposed Boiler Installation) forms by incorporating them into the new Section 10 of the PW1-C. Boiler installers must provide an original of the Schedule C, original seal, and signature at time of inspection. Without all three of the items mentioned, the inspector will not sign off the job. If gas authorization is needed, a card will be provided by the boiler inspector at the time of the inspection verifying the first test passed. The card is in lieu of the outdated 900A.

The ARA was also revised to eliminate the need for a 900A.

Installers of boilers have two methods for submitting their appointment requests; either through DOB's website or by faxing 212-566-5764.
